

Biography

Clíodhna Ní Aodáin, 2019

Clíodhna Ní Aodáin is a professional cellist, conductor, composer, teacher and creative artist.

Cello studies with

- Olwen Lewis and Aisling Drury-Byrne in Dublin
- Emma Ferrand at the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester (BMusRNCM)
- Yuli Turovsky at the Université de Montréal (MMus Interprétation)
- Susanne Basler at the Zürcher Hochschule der Künste (Konzertdiplom).

Masterclasses with Janos Starker, Valentin Berlinsky, and David Darling.

Originally from a musical family in Dublin, Ireland, Clíodhna currently lives and works in Bern, Switzerland. She teaches cello at the Musikschule Konservatorium Bern www.konsibern.ch and conducts the Orchester Divertimento Bern. www.divertimento-bern.ch

Clíodhna performs as a soloist and chamber musician internationally and loves to explore musical expression through improvisation. Clíodhna is the Artistic Director of “Music for People Europe”. www.musicforpeople.ch